Report of Water Commissioners

There have been added during the last year four new service pipes, making now about one hundred fifty service pipes in use.

We have extended the main over four hundred feet on Moulton street, and as soon as the ground opens in the spring we expect a couple more service pipes to be attached to that main.

The extension cost between $850 and $900.

After a test by the Underwriters' Bureau of Inspection, we were informed that the old sprinklers in the shoe factory were not reliable for fire protection, as they refused to open in case of fire, as they were supposed to do. These we replaced with approved sprinklers, the exchange costing close to $100.

Last June, owing to the increased waste of water that had been going on, the Commissioners were informed by Chase, Chamberlain & Co. that they had for a long time been pumping much more water than their contract called for. That after June 13th they would be obliged to charge extra for all water pumped in excess of their contract.

We arranged with the makers of the pump to make a test to determine what percentage of the rated capacity of the pump was being pumped and found from the report of the engineer, who made the test, that the pump was throwing 83-7-10% of the rated capacity, so the record of the pumping is being kept on this basis. The bill for excess pumping has amounted since June 13, 1912, as follows:

Bill to July 1, 1912	$54	00
July 1 to August 1, 1912	117	51
August 1 to September 1, 1912	72	77
September 1 to October 1, 1912	57	50
October 1 to November 1, 1912	56	61
November 1 to December 1, 1912	15	15
December 1 to January 1, 1913	33	54
Total to January 1, 1913	$407	08

This bill has not been paid, as we will be unable to tell until the end of the year what this excess will amount to.

If the system was equipped with meters and the immense waste of water stopped, we feel sure the amount contracted for, 75,000 gallons per day, would be ample for all legitimate needs.

As the excess has been averaging, the bill will be near $800 at the end of one year. This would be enough to meter quite a good part of the service.

The collections have been a little less than last year, but the uncollected bills when paid will make the income a little more than any previous year.

The lease of the factory to Chase, Chamberlain & Co. expires one year from next June. They are cramped for room and have made a proposition to lease the factory for a term of years and build an addition thereto. There will be a meeting of the taxpayers called in a few days to consider the matter.

Your Commissioners hope that you will take interest enough in this important matter, so that every taxpayer will attend the meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

LEWIS W. HOLMES, CARL J. WHITING, LEWIS E. GRIFFIN,

Water Commissioners.

Report of School Board

To the Citizens of Raymond:

This is a report, not an essay. Your School Board has tried faithfully to discharge the duties entrusted to it. We register here our appreciation of the labors of Mr. Clarence E. Baker for five years as Superintendent of Schools. A longer school year, better grading and improved teaching have surely resulted from his labors. The School District of Candia withdrew from our Supervisory District a year ago. The Districts of Hampstead, Lee and Raymond constitute the new Supervisory District. Mr. Otis H. Adams, recently of the Pembroke-Hooksett-Epsom Supervisory District, was secured as Superintendent soon after the opening of the fall term, and entered immediately upon his duties. His salary is twelve hundred dollars, which the three districts share equally. We commend the matter of his first report to your careful attention.

We invite most careful inspection of the year's expenditures. A few items deserve comment. We have expended $5,118.96, which is more than a thousand dollars in excess of the figures for 1912. Two items enter into this apparent increase. We found several bills that had been overlooked and allowed to run for one or two years. Immediately after the closing of the books a year ago some large bills came in that belonged to the year just closed. These two classes of items amounted to more than six hundred dollars. Furthermore, we have done our best to discover and settle every bill against the School District before closing the books. This seems only fair to those who shall succeed us in this office. We have paid a little more for teachers' salaries, but the apparent increase is almost wholly accounted for by the fact that the salaries for February and a part of January, a year ago, were paid after the close of the books; and by the further fact that we have paid our teachers to the close of the winter term. March 7.

Our total will not agree with the Treasurer's figures. Ours shows the aggregate of all orders drawn by us. The Treasurer's footing will include some orders drawn by our predecessors, but not presented for payment before the books were closed.

The law requires that the Treasurer shall furnish bond before entering upon the duties of his office. As required by our oath of office we have twice demanded this bond, but it has not been furnished.

The character of the repairs made may require statement. We have removed four seats from the Gove school house to the elementary room, where seating room has been at a premium. We have pad-locked all out-house doors, avoiding nuisance between sessions. New stairs to the wood cellar have been built at the Pecker school and cellar windows put in where the winter winds had whistled unhindered.

We are pleased to note the increase in the number of prospective High school attendants for next fall. No one who fairly values the training of our youth will grudge the increase of statutory requirement for this purpose.

The services of our Truant Officer are costing us far too much. The fault is with those parents, guardians or custodians who are careless of the law and of the best interests of the children which the law would safeguard. If there were no law what irretrievable folly it would be to defraud our children of the rare hours of mental training and acquisition by keeping them out of school for the money they may earn or save. And in the not infrequent cases when pupils do not like the restrictions and requirements of the school, is it not a pity that the parental authority must so often be supplemented by the authority of the statute and of the courts? Parents have it in their power to relieve the School Board of the unpleasantness and the district of the financial burden of legal process to secure the prompt and regular attendance of their boys and girls. Here is an abstract from the Statute which the School Board are put under oath to enforce, and will enforce:

"Every person having the custody and control of a child between the ages of eight and fourteen years, or of a child under the age of sixteen years, who cannot read at sight and write legibly, simple sentences in the English language, residing in a school district in which a public school is annually taught, shall cause such child to attend the public school all the time that such school is in session, unless the child shall be excused by the School Board of the District. because his physical or mental condition is such as to prevent his attendance at school for the period required, or because he was instructed in the English language in a private school approved by the School Board for a number of weeks equal to that in which the public school was in session, in the common English branches, or having acquired those branches. in other more advanced studies. Any person who does not comply with the requirements of this section shall be fined ten dollars for the first offense and twenty dollars for every subsequent offense, for the use of the district."

We are happy to report nearly sixty pupils enrolled in the first three grades in the village. But it is not pleasant to think that we are asking one teacher, without an assistant, to keep profitably busy these three groups. In justice first to our boys and girls and then to our faithful teachers we ought to devise some relief. We suggest that the measure that seems to demand least additional expenditure is to employ one more teacher, giving two grades to each of three rooms. A third room could be provided without new building or enlargement by utilizing the Town Hall for the fifth and sixth grades. The removal of the school desks for the holding of the town and district meetings would be the work of only a few minutes for a few men, and they would not occupy too much space if grouped closely at one side of the hall. After the room has been provided with desks the only extra expense will be those for teacher, fuel and care. Books and supplies will cost as much in one place as in another. If this plan is not deemed feasible some other must surely be discovered, if our boys and girls are to get what they ought to get from our public schools.

The special appropriation for repairs is demanded by the condition of the shingles on some of our buildings, and by general dilapidation inside.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board and Citizens of Raymond:

My first annual report as your Superintendent of schools is herewith submitted.

I assumed charge of the work in September and the problem has been, in part, to build on the foundation laid by my able predecessor, and more largely, to add to the efficiency of the work and of the teachers. I found the schools fairly well graded and in those schools where teachers held over from last year the conditions were commendable. Three teachers, new to the town and practically without experience, were beginning their work. One stayed only till Christmas, and the other two are working intelligently and successfully under guidance.

At the outset it was ascertained that a considerable addition to the text books was needed. No school had enough books to equip the classes and the variety was such that few transfers could be made. As soon as possible additions were made, so that the present equipment is fairly satisfactory.

The coming year should see changes completed, and a systematic allowance of books and supplies made. There is little justification for the use of three series of geographies, physiology, language, arithmetics and two of history, in five schools. Greater uniformity and care in choosing books will always produce better results.

Your attention is called to the need of extensive repairs and new furniture in several rooms. Gile and Freetown schools and the Intermediate need new furniture, while all the schools need cleaning and inside repairs. Walls, ceilings, wood work, and floors need cleaning, painting and partial replacing. Approximately $225 is needed this year to start these repairs and $200 for new furniture.

Clean, fresh, well kept surroundings are most conducive to best intellectual results. The closets at all the buildings have been cleaned and now the doors are kept locked, except when schools are in session. A pest of flies was found at the primary room in the fall, and continued till cold weather. If this pest continues the coming summer it is likely to result in serious disease among the children, as it is now known that flies are most prolific in carrying and communicating contagious disease. If needed, I recommend that an expert be employed to free the school and its neighborhood of this pest.

The large number of absences from school is a most serious hindrance to good work. It encourages ignorance and shift-lessness in the families, whose children are absent, and discourages those who are regular in attendance. Two habitual truants were sent to Manchester in the winter for five years, as their parents were entirely without control over them. The effect was salutary on their assoicates, but the work should not stop there. It is economy for the town to employ an efficient truant officer, who will visit the schools often enough to know of all unnecessary absence, and to hunt up and return to school all who are absent without excellent excuse. Few tax payers consider that if one-fifth of the children are absent from school, all the time, that the smallest loss to the town is the wasting of one-fifth of all money raised for school purposes.

For several years the amount spent for books and supplies, each year, has exceeded the appropriation by nearly $100. While this is not legal it has been allowed. This year the amount spent is $120 more than the appropriation, but $60 of this was for back bills contracted from one to four years ago. To the best of my knowledge all back bills are now paid. The bills incurred and paid since September have been less than $102. An appropriation of $275 is needed the coming year, or less than $1.60 per pupil, the average for the state for graded schools. A small class in the grammar school, doing first-year high school work, adds to this average, but it is believed the amount named above will prove sufficient.

An important part of the superintendent's work is the purchase and distribution of books and supplies. It is within reason to claim that he can and does save to the town from one-fourth to one-third of what might easily be the annual cost, and the schools are supplied more evenly and abundantly than if everything is ordered for which a school may ask without reference to its real need.

It is scholastic and financial policy for a town to employ only teachers with the state endorsement, either with the normal training or with the state certificate. Without question the normal training is the best in most cases, but the state certificate entitles the town to a rebate of $2 per week on the salary. The state certificate, obtained by examination, does not imply adequate scholarship in the teacher, but the town is helped towards employing better teachers by the ability to pay higher salaries for good teachers. The greatest weakness among the teachers of the state is lack of scholarship and teachers should always be ready to remedy this so far as the opportunity is given them.

The overcrowding of the village schools soon will demand careful attention. The primary room, this year, has enroled fifty-four pupils. It is generally conceded that twenty-five to thirty scholars in two grades is a full room for any primary school. When the time is ripe, provision should be made for a fourth room in the village and a readjustment of grades. This would permit of the seventh and eighth grades being brought to the village from the outside schools, a measure of great value to these scholars, who are badly handicapped by being in small classes and where teachers cannot give them the full time they need. This plan, worked out, would result in greater efficiency in the entire school system.

It has been a pleasure to work with teachers and School Board in Raymond. The response in nearly every case has been excellent. My work has been aggressive mostly in the reading. While good work has evidently been done in past years, there is always the chance of improving it. New methods are being used and the first grade is rapidly improving. Children should be taught all the necessary principles of reading in the first three grades so that the work to follow is adding to vocabulary and in increased skill, with added maturity in the comprehension of what is read.

Appropriations for books, supplies, flags and appurtenances and high school tuition are recommended in the school report and do not require a vote of the district to make them legal. In compliance with the statutory requirements I recommend the following appropriations for these purposes:

Books and supplies	00
Flags and appurtenances	00
High school tuition 600	00

Respectfully submitted,

O. H. ADAMS, Superintendent.
